

Expression of Interest No. 1611
City Farm Advisory Group

Are you passionate about urban agriculture and sustainability education? Do you work well with people, have good communication skills and community development experience? Then we have an opportunity for you.

The City is developing an exciting new City Farm, which will involve community participation to plan and carry out the project in St Peters and Ultimo.

We are seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified and experienced people to represent the community as part of the City Farm Advisory Group.

The successful volunteers will meet monthly and provide input and direction to the City Farm business plan, design master plan and community consultation process.

Community representatives will work with other Advisory Group members from the City and the Powerhouse Museum to ensure the project meets the community's needs
