

TUTOR'S EXHIBITION - MEDIA RELEASE

Pine Street Creative Arts Centre is a unique arts and cultural facility based in the heart of inner city Sydney and represents Council's flagship community arts facility. It aims to provide innovative and progressive arts and cultural programs that are accessible to all community members. As one strategy to achieve this aim, the Centre engages professional artists to facilitate and tutor high quality arts projects and programs to a community of adults, young people and children.

Artists @ Pine Street: Tutors' Exhibition is a showcase of the artistic talents of 12 tutors currently working at Pine Street Creative Arts Centre. The exhibition aims to raise the profile of these artists with the hope of inspiring community members to become involved in programs at Pine Street Creative Arts Centre, like the Studio Workshop Program which runs for 9 weeks, 4 times a year. The exhibition will demonstrate the high level of skills and the artistic vision of these tutors, as well as providing an insight into the range of arts practices available at the Centre. Silver jewellery, painting, digital arts, printmaking, ceramics and more will be on show.

Many of the artists exhibiting work have won awards in their area of expertise, have exhibited nationally and internationally and are qualified adult educators.

Current and future students will see works that reflect the tutors' ideas, their approach to their disciplines and an example of current work from their own studio practice.

Tutors want to encourage more involvement from the community, Council, government, business and the general public and demonstrate the high level of service that Pine Street Creative Arts Centre is currently providing.

"The classes that I attend are a fantastic creative outlet for me and is a vital way for me to keep in touch with my local community", says Betty Murphy, who has been attending the Studio Workshop Program for many years.

The exhibition will run for two weeks from Friday the 25th of June until Saturday the 9th of July at Pine Street Creative Arts Centre.
