

We are creating our next Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan

Developing our next Inclusion (Disability)

Action Plan

We want to make sure that people with disability are included in the City of Sydney.

And we want to make our community more accessible.

At the moment, we are writing an Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan.

In doing this, we have thought about the barriers that people might face in our community.

The plan will explain the changes we can make to improve the lives of people with disability in our community.

The plan will include actions in the following categories:

1. Community attitudes and behaviours towards people with disability;
2. How people with disability live in and get around the community;
3. Jobs for people with disability, and;
4. How people with disability access council services and information.

We'd love to know what you think.

You can ask for support to read this document.

We look forward to learning more about your ideas for people with disability in the City of Sydney.

How we will develop our Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan

1. Look at what we have done

The City reviews the current Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan 2017-2021. We have completed this.

2. Consult with People with Disability

The City invites people with disability to speak to us directly at one of our workshops, over the phone or via our survey. The City also receives feedback from our Inclusion (Disability) Advisory Panel. This is what we are doing now (31 August to 9 October 2020).

Have your say here! Participate in a workshop, call us or fill in our survey.

3. Write the plan

The City writes a draft of the next plan which includes what you told us. We will do this in late 2020.

4. Send to Committee for approval

The draft plan is sent to the City of Sydney's Council Committee for approval to ask the wider community what they think. We will do this in early 2021.

Have your say here! Speak at the Committee meeting.

5. Public exhibition

The draft plan is available for everyone to view and to send feedback. We will do this in early 2021.

Have your say here! Submit feedback to Council.

6. Council decision

The draft plan is sent to City of Sydney councillors for approval. We will do this in mid 2021.

Have your say here! Speak at the Committee meeting.

7. Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan 2021-2025 is enacted

By mid 2021, the Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan from 2021-2025 is approved by Council. This plan replaces the Inclusion (Disability) Action Plan 2017 – 2021.
