Background

This memo provides additional information to the Council following further internal discussions regarding the PCYC (or similar community facility) and the desire to fast track the development for more rental social and affordable housing. The report to Council and the draft planning proposal are clear in their intent for the planning proposal to facilitate 30% social housing and an additional 10% affordable housing onsite (the remainder market) consistent with LAHC's Communities Plus 70:30 model and Greater Sydney Commission and City's affordable rental housing targets.

The proposed amendment to reference the requirement for 30% social housing in addition to the 10% affordable housing will provide certainty to the community and the site's future developer about the City's expectations in regard to future development.

The level of detail provided in the Design Guide (or draft DCP) satisfies the requirement for a site-specific DCP (Stage 1 DA) in the event that the future DA(s) is delegated to the City where Stage 1 DA would be required for a site of this size. By satisfying the requirement for a Stage 1 DA within the planning proposal package, the site can be fast-tracked for the delivery of additional social and affordable housing by going to straight to a detailed DA.

The intention of some of the proposed clauses contained in the report for the draft Planning Proposal and draft Design Guide were to protect the PCYC or similar community facility given that no firm arrangements have been made to date to ensure continuity of function, and in view of approximately 3500sqm of land currently zoned SP2 is proposed to be rezoned residential. The proposed envelopes and clauses in the draft Design Guide (or DCP) allow the PCYC to remain at Redfern or potentially relocate to another site such as Waterloo.

The LAHC Redfern rezoning has been fast-tracked by the City because of the urgent need for more social and affordable housing in Sydney. The construction of the clauses relating to the PCYC in the draft Planning Proposal and the draft Design Guide could be more simply worded to allow for fast track delivery. The intent of making suitable arrangements for the PCYC remain, but the detail requirements as originally suggested, are proposed to be modified to give more flexibility and efficiency in delivery.

The reference to 3500sqm in the package refers to maintaining the PCYC land area until suitable arrangements are made for a new facility. It is not to be confused with 3500sqm of GFA which may have been implied by the draft wording in Section 3.3. It is recommended that the area be deleted where indicated above.
