Report on Preliminary Site Investigation (Contamination)

Piccadilly Hotel Redevelopment

169 – 173 Victoria Street & 92 – 98 Brougham Street, Potts Point

1. Introduction

This report presents the results of a Preliminary Site Investigation (Contamination) undertaken for the proposed development at 169 – 173 Victoria Street and 92 – 98 Brougham Street, Potts Point. The work was commissioned by Harrphil Pty Ltd, developers of the site.

The project includes the redevelopment of the former Piccadilly Hotel and adjacent terrace/unit buildings into a boutique accommodation hotel. Excavations for basement etc. do not form part of the proposed development.

The Preliminary Site Investigation was undertaken to:

- assess the previous land uses to determine the potential for soil and groundwater contamination on the site;
- provide a preliminary assessment of the suitability of the site for the proposed development; and
- provide recommendations for additional investigation, if required.

The Preliminary Site Investigation has been prepared to address the requirements of State Environmental Planning Policy No 55 – Remediation of Land. The overall approach for the Preliminary Site Investigation included a review of available historical information and an inspection of the site by an engineer. Details of the investigation are given in this report, as well as comments on the issues outlined above.

2. Site Description

The development site is an irregular-shaped lot with an area of approximately 1300 m². It is bounded by commercial and residential properties to the north and south, Victoria Street to the east and Brougham Street to the west. Access into the rear of the Victoria Street properties is also available via Hourigan Lane off Brougham Street.

Victoria Street and Brougham Street both slope downwards to the north. There is also a difference in surface levels between the two streets with Victoria Street in the order of 7 m higher than Brougham Street (surface levels between about RL 33 m and RL 26 m relative to the Australian Height Datum (AHD)).

At the time of this investigation the properties fronting Victoria Street appeared to be generally vacant and in good condition. The properties fronting Brougham Street were in use as residential housing and also in good condition.

A summary of the individual lots is provided in Table 1. Drawing 1 in Appendix B shows the location of the site.

*Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012

3. Regional Geology and Hydrogeology

The Sydney 1:100 000 Geological Series Sheet indicates that the site is underlain by Hawkesbury Sandstone (medium to coarse-grained quartz sandstone with minor shale and laminite lenses). An extract from the geological map is shown in Figure 1.

The geology and topography of the site suggests that the regional groundwater table is at considerable depth. Seepage would be expected along the top of the bedrock and through joints and partings within the rock itself. The volume of seepage would be expected to vary with climatic events.

Acid sulfate soil mapping indicates no known occurrence of acid sulfate soils on the site which is to be expected for this geology and topography. The Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 indicates that the site is on Class 5 land in relation to acid sulfate soils; this class requires development consent for works within 500 m of Class 1, 2, 3 or 4 land that is below RL 5 m AHD and by which the water table is likely to be lowered below RL 1 m AHD on the adjacent Class 1, 2, 3 or 4 land. This will not be the case and as such development consent in relation to acid sulfate soils will not be required.

4. Scope of Works

The scope of the Preliminary Site Investigation was as follows:

- Review various historical documents including title deeds, aerial photographs, the Section 10.7 certificates, the EPA Contaminated Land register and groundwater bore licences to determine the nature of previous activities that may have occurred on the site;
- Undertake a site inspection to determine any obvious contamination risks; and
- Provide a Preliminary Site Investigation report which comments on the historical uses of the site, the potential for soil and groundwater contamination to be present, and provides recommendations for follow up action (if required).

5. Site History

5.1 Historical Land Uses

Historical land title information was obtained for the lots which make up the development site. A summary of previous owners is provided in Table 2.

Table 2: Summary of Previous Owners

Site	Summary of Owners
169 Victoria Street	Individuals from 1874 to 1982 likely to have used the property for residential purposes, Strata Plan #19010 1982-2019. Harrphil Pty Ltd since 2019.
171-173 Victoria Street	Individuals from 1874 to 1936, Tooth & Co Limited from 1936 to 1991, Manzini Holdings Pty Ltd 1991 to 1996, and Napoleon Hill Pty Ltd 1996 to 2016. Harrphil Pty Ltd since 2016. Long term use as a pub.
92 Brougham Street	Individuals from 1926 to 2019 likely to have used the property for residential purposes. Harrphil Pty Ltd since 2019.
94 Brougham Street	Individuals from 1922 to date likely to have used the property for residential purposes. Current owner is Catherine Rae Reynolds.

Site	Summary of Owners
96 Brougham Street	Individuals from 1922 to 1978 likely to have used the property for residential purposes. Oregon Timber Industries Pty Ltd (potential developer) from 1978 to 1985, then various individuals to 2017. Harrphil Pty Ltd since 2017.
98 Brougham Street	Individuals from 1926 to 2019 (plus Tarcorp Pty Ltd 1989-1990) likely to have used the property for residential purposes. Harrphil Pty Ltd since 2019.

There is nothing in the title deed information to suggest that contaminating activities have been undertaken on the site. The historical title deed information is included in Appendix C.

5.2 Aerial Photographs

Aerial photographs from 1930, 1968, 1972, 1982, 1999 and 2020 were used to assess historical land-use patterns on the site. Comments in relation to the photographs are as follows:

- The 1930 photograph shows what is understood to be the former Austral Club Hotel on 171 – 173 Victoria Street and terrace-type buildings on the other five lots;
- The 1968 photograph shows what is understood to be the current Piccadilly Hotel building on the former Austral Club Hotel site. The new building is understood to have been constructed in 1939;
- The subsequent photographs show that the site has largely remain unchanged, although renovations and modifications are likely to have occurred to the buildings over time.

The aerial photographs are attached in Appendix D.

5.3 Section 10.7 Certificates

The Section 10.7 Planning Certificates issued under the Environmental Planning & Assessment Act 1979 were obtained from City of Sydney Council. The certificates state that the land is not significantly contaminated, is not the subject of a management order, is not the subject of an approved voluntary management proposal, is not the subject of an ongoing maintenance order and is not the subject of a site audit statement.

The planning certificates are included in Appendix E.

5.4 Contaminated Lands Register

The site is not identified as being significantly contaminated under the Contaminated Lands Management Act 1997 as at 18 May 2020. Further, the site is not on the 14 May 2020 version of the 'List of NSW Contaminated Sites Notified to EPA'.

5.5 Licenced Groundwater Bores

A search of licenced groundwater bores indicates that there are no known wells on or within at least 100 m of the site. This suggests that the groundwater is at considerable depth and not a beneficial extraction resource.

6. Results of Inspection

A site inspection was undertaken by an engineer on 14 May 2020. Photographs taken during the inspection are provided in Appendix F. The inspection confirmed that the site is largely covered by commercial and residential buildings that are all in relatively good condition. There were no obvious signs of contamination observed at the time of the inspection.

7. Preliminary Conceptual Site Model

The site history information indicates that the site has been used for residential and commercial purposes since at least the early part of the 20th Century. Activities with the potential to cause significant contamination on the site have not been identified.

Contamination could possibly be present on the site due to:

- The placement of filling on the site;
- The use of hazardous building materials in previous/existing structures;
- Contaminants associated with building maintenance (e.g. pesticides); and
- Naturally occurring elements in the soils and rock underlying the site (e.g. heavy metals).

The regional groundwater table is likely to be at significant depth on the site. The use of groundwater within the development is considered unlikely. The quality of the groundwater from a land-use perspective will therefore only be of significance if volatile contaminants are present.

Soil vapour intrusion and/or ground gas will only need to be considered if significant concentrations of volatile organic compounds are encountered on the site which is considered unlikely.

The human receptors to soil contamination are likely to be the visitors and workers at the redeveloped site. Construction personnel, nearby workers/residents and the general public may also be receptors during the construction phase of the redevelopment project.

The ecological receptors are likely to be limited to the flora and fauna that grow/live on the adjacent sites. The area is not known to be ecologically significant. Exposure pathways are expected to be limited to dermal contact with soils on the site by humans, ingestion of soils and vegetation by fauna, and phytotoxic exposure to flora.

8. Conclusions and Recommendations

On the basis of the results of this Preliminary Site Investigation, the risk of significant contamination being present on the site is considered to be low. Activities with the potential to cause contamination were not identified in the historical information and signs of contamination were not observed during a walkover assessment.

It is noted that a Detailed Site Investigation incorporating intrusive sampling should be undertaken to fully characterise the contamination status of the site, if such characterisation is required. However, on the basis of the investigation undertaken to date it is considered that the risk of significant contamination being present, that prevents the redevelopment of the site without significant remediation, is low. It is also noted that the proposed land-use will remain residential/commercial.

A Hazardous Building Materials Assessment is suggested to identify hazardous materials (e.g. Lead based paint, asbestos etc.) so that demolition/renovation works can be planned and executed appropriately. This assessment does not need to be undertaken until demolition/renovation works are proposed (i.e. post Development Application approval but prior to issuing the Construction Certificate).

If any contamination is identified during construction (e.g. waste filling) then an appropriate response will need to be developed by an environmental consultant and actioned on site to determine site suitability. This could be undertaken by enacting an Unexpected Finds Protocol (UFP) as part of the Construction Environmental Management Plan (CEMP).

Any materials required to be removed from the site will need to be classified in accordance with the current Waste Classification Guidelines (NSW EPA, 2014) or other related waste guidance.

9. Limitations

Douglas Partners (DP) has prepared this report for the Piccadilly Hotel redevelopment project, Potts Point, in accordance with DP's proposal SYD200401.P.001.Rev0 dated 21 April 2020 and acceptance received from the client. This report is provided for the use of Harrphil Pty Ltd for this project only and for the purposes as described in the report. It should not be relied upon for other projects or by a third party. In preparing this report DP has necessarily relied upon information provided by the client and/or their agents.

All advice provided in this report is based on a desktop assessment. The advice may need to be updated following intrusive investigations, if such investigations are undertaken in the future.

This report must be read in conjunction with all of the attached and should be kept in its entirety without separation of individual pages or sections. DP cannot be held responsible for interpretations or conclusions made by others unless they are supported by an expressed statement, interpretation, outcome or conclusion stated in this report.

This report, or sections from this report, should not be used as part of a specification for a project, without review and agreement by DP. This is because this report has been written as advice and opinion rather than instructions for construction.

About this Report

Introduction

These notes have been provided to amplify DP's report in regard to classification methods, field procedures and the comments section. Not all are necessarily relevant to all reports.

DP's reports are based on information gained from limited subsurface excavations and sampling, supplemented by knowledge of local geology and experience. For this reason, they must be regarded as interpretive rather than factual documents, limited to some extent by the scope of information on which they rely.

Copyright

This report is the property of Douglas Partners Pty Ltd. The report may only be used for the purpose for which it was commissioned and in accordance with the Conditions of Engagement for the commission supplied at the time of proposal. Unauthorised use of this report in any form whatsoever is prohibited.

Borehole and Test Pit Logs

The borehole and test pit logs presented in this report are an engineering and/or geological interpretation of the subsurface conditions, and their reliability will depend to some extent on frequency of sampling and the method of drilling or excavation. Ideally, continuous undisturbed sampling or core drilling will provide the most reliable assessment, but this is not always practicable or possible to justify on economic grounds. In any case the boreholes and test pits represent only a very small sample of the total subsurface profile.

Interpretation of the information and its application to design and construction should therefore take into account the spacing of boreholes or pits, the frequency of sampling, and the possibility of other than 'straight line' variations between the test locations.

Groundwater

Where groundwater levels are measured in boreholes there are several potential problems, namely:

- In low permeability soils groundwater may enter the hole very slowly or perhaps not at all during the time the hole is left open;

- A localised, perched water table may lead to an erroneous indication of the true water table;
- Water table levels will vary from time to time with seasons or recent weather changes. They may not be the same at the time of construction as are indicated in the report; and
- The use of water or mud as a drilling fluid will mask any groundwater inflow. Water has to be blown out of the hole and drilling mud must first be washed out of the hole if water measurements are to be made.

More reliable measurements can be made by installing standpipes which are read at intervals over several days, or perhaps weeks for low permeability soils. Piezometers, sealed in a particular stratum, may be advisable in low permeability soils or where there may be interference from a perched water table.

Reports

The report has been prepared by qualified personnel, is based on the information obtained from field and laboratory testing, and has been undertaken to current engineering standards of interpretation and analysis. Where the report has been prepared for a specific design proposal, the information and interpretation may not be relevant if the design proposal is changed. If this happens, DP will be pleased to review the report and the sufficiency of the investigation work.

Every care is taken with the report as it relates to interpretation of subsurface conditions, discussion of geotechnical and environmental aspects, and recommendations or suggestions for design and construction. However, DP cannot always anticipate or assume responsibility for:

- Unexpected variations in ground conditions. The potential for this will depend partly on borehole or pit spacing and sampling frequency;
- Changes in policy or interpretations of policy by statutory authorities; or
- The actions of contractors responding to commercial pressures.

If these occur, DP will be pleased to assist with investigations or advice to resolve the matter.

About this Report

Site Anomalies

In the event that conditions encountered on site during construction appear to vary from those which were expected from the information contained in the report, DP requests that it be immediately notified. Most problems are much more readily resolved when conditions are exposed rather than at some later stage, well after the event.

Information for Contractual Purposes

Where information obtained from this report is provided for tendering purposes, it is recommended that all information, including the written report and discussion, be made available. In circumstances where the discussion or comments section is not relevant to the contractual situation, it may be appropriate to prepare a specially edited document. DP would be pleased to assist in this regard and/or to make additional report copies available for contract purposes at a nominal charge.

Site Inspection

The company will always be pleased to provide engineering inspection services for geotechnical and environmental aspects of work to which this report is related. This could range from a site visit to confirm that conditions exposed are as expected, to full time engineering presence on site.

STATE PLANNING INSTRUMENTS

Full copies of State Environmental Planning Policies are available online at www.planning.nsw.gov.au.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 19 – Bushland in Urban Areas

This is a policy to protect and preserve bushland within certain urban areas, as part of the natural heritage or for recreational, educational and scientific purposes. This policy is designed to protect bushland in public open space zones and reservations, and to ensure that bush preservation is given a high priority when local environmental plans for urban development are prepared.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 33 – Hazardous and Offensive Development

This policy aims to amend the definitions of hazardous and offensive industries; to render ineffective any environmental planning instruments not defining hazardous or offensive as per this policy; to control development of hazardous and offensive industries.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 55 – Remediation of Land

This policy provides planning controls for the remediation of contaminated land. The policy states that land must not be developed if it is unsuitable for a proposed use because it is contaminated. If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 64 – Advertising and Signage

This policy aims to ensure that signage (including advertising):
Is compatible with the desired amenity and visual character of an area, and
Provides effective communications in suitable locations, and
Is of a high quality design and finish.

To this end the policy regulates signage (but not content) under Part 4 of the Act and provides limited time consents for the display of certain advertisements. The policy does not apply to signage that is exempt development under an environmental planning instrument. It does apply to all signage that can be displayed with or without consent and is visible from any public place or reserve, except as provided by the policy.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2005, the City of Sydney Signage and Advertising Structures Development Control Plan 2003 and State Environmental Planning Policy No. 60 where these apply.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 65 – Design Quality of Residential Apartment Development

This policy aims to improve the design quality of flats of three or more storeys with four or more self contained dwellings. The policy sets out a series of design principles for local councils to consider when assessing development proposals for residential flat development. The policy also creates a role for an independent design review panel and requires the involvement of a qualified designer in the design and approval process.

State Environmental Planning Policy No.70 – Affordable Housing (Revised Schemes) (Gazetted 31.05.02)

The policy identifies that there is a need for affordable housing in the City of Sydney, describes the kinds of households for which affordable housing may be provided and makes a requirement with respect to the imposition of conditions relating to the provision of affordable housing (provided other requirements under the Act are met).

State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing for Seniors or People with a Disability) 2004

This Policy does not apply to land described in Schedule 1 (Environmentally sensitive land), or land that is zoned for industrial purposes, or land to which an interim heritage order made under the Heritage Act 1997 by the Minister administering that Act applies, or land to which a listing on the State Heritage Register kept under the Heritage Act 1997 applies.

The Policy aims to encourage the provision of housing (including residential care facilities) that will increase the supply and diversity of residences that meet the needs of seniors or people with a disability, and make efficient use of existing infrastructure and services, and be of good design.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Building Sustainability Index: BASIX) 2004

Aims to ensure consistency in the implementation of the BASIX scheme throughout the State. This Policy achieves its aim by overriding provisions of other environmental planning instruments and development control plans that would otherwise add to, subtract from or modify any obligations arising under the BASIX scheme.

State Environmental Planning Policy (State Significant Precincts) 2005

This Policy aims to identify development of economic, social or environmental significance to the State or regions of the State so as to provide a consistent and comprehensive assessment and decision making process for that development.

NB: This SEPP also contains exempt & complying provisions

If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 19 – Bushland in Urban Areas

This is a policy to protect and preserve bushland within certain urban areas, as part of the natural heritage or for recreational, educational and scientific purposes. This policy is designed to protect bushland in public open space zones and reservations, and to ensure that bush preservation is given a high priority when local environmental plans for urban development are prepared.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 33 – Hazardous and Offensive Development

This policy aims to amend the definitions of hazardous and offensive industries; to render ineffective any environmental planning instruments not defining hazardous or offensive as per this policy; to control development of hazardous and offensive industries.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 55 – Remediation of Land

This policy provides planning controls for the remediation of contaminated land. The policy states that land must not be developed if it is unsuitable for a proposed use because it is contaminated. If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 64 – Advertising and Signage

This policy aims to ensure that signage (including advertising):
Is compatible with the desired amenity and visual character of an area, and
Provides effective communications in suitable locations, and
Is of a high quality design and finish.

To this end the policy regulates signage (but not content) under Part 4 of the Act and provides limited time consents for the display of certain advertisements. The policy does not apply to signage that is exempt development under an environmental planning instrument. State Environmental Planning Policy No. 19 – Bushland in Urban Areas

This is a policy to protect and preserve bushland within certain urban areas, as part of the natural heritage or for recreational, educational and scientific purposes. This policy is designed to protect bushland in public open space zones and reservations, and to ensure that bush preservation is given a high priority when local environmental plans for urban development are prepared.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 55 – Remediation of Land

This policy provides planning controls for the remediation of contaminated land. The policy states that land must not be developed if it is unsuitable for a proposed use because it is contaminated. If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 64 – Advertising and Signage

This policy aims to ensure that signage (including advertising):
Is compatible with the desired amenity and visual character of an area, and
Provides effective communications in suitable locations, and
Is of a high quality design and finish.

To this end the policy regulates signage (but not content) under Part 4 of the Act and provides limited time consents for the display of certain advertisements. The policy does not apply to signage that is exempt development under an environmental planning instrument. STATE PLANNING INSTRUMENTS

Full copies of State Environmental Planning Policies are available online at www.planning.nsw.gov.au.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 19 – Bushland in Urban Areas

This is a policy to protect and preserve bushland within certain urban areas, as part of the natural heritage or for recreational, educational and scientific purposes. This policy is designed to protect bushland in public open space zones and reservations, and to ensure that bush preservation is given a high priority when local environmental plans for urban development are prepared.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 33 – Hazardous and Offensive Development

This policy aims to amend the definitions of hazardous and offensive industries; to render ineffective any environmental planning instruments not defining hazardous or offensive as per this policy; to control development of hazardous and offensive industries.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 55 – Remediation of Land

This policy provides planning controls for the remediation of contaminated land. The policy states that land must not be developed if it is unsuitable for a proposed use because it is contaminated. If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 64 – Advertising and Signage

This policy aims to ensure that signage (including advertising):
Is compatible with the desired amenity and visual character of an area, and
Provides effective communications in suitable locations, and
Is of a high quality design and finish.

To this end the policy regulates signage (but not content) under Part 4 of the Act and provides limited time consents for the display of certain advertisements. The policy does not apply to signage that is exempt development under an environmental planning instrument. It does apply to all signage that can be displayed with or without consent and is visible from any public place or reserve, except as provided by the policy.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2005, the City of Sydney Signage and Advertising Structures Development Control Plan 2003 and State Environmental Planning Policy No. 60 where these apply.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 65 – Design Quality of Residential Apartment Development

This policy aims to improve the design quality of flats of three or more storeys with four or more self contained dwellings. The policy sets out a series of design principles for local councils to consider when assessing development proposals for residential flat development. The policy also creates a role for an independent design review panel and requires the involvement of a qualified designer in the design and approval process.

State Environmental Planning Policy No.70 – Affordable Housing (Revised Schemes) (Gazetted 31.05.02)

The policy identifies that there is a need for affordable housing in the City of Sydney, describes the kinds of households for which affordable housing may be provided and makes a requirement with respect to the imposition of conditions relating to the provision of affordable housing (provided other requirements under the Act are met).

State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing for Seniors or People with a Disability) 2004

The Policy aims to encourage the provision of housing (including residential care facilities) that will increase the supply and diversity of residences that meet the needs of seniors or people with a disability, and make efficient use of existing infrastructure and services, and be of good design.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Building Sustainability Index: BASIX) 2004
