Part A

Management Framework

1. Introduction

What is a PoM

A Plan of Management (“PoM”) is a document which provides a clear set of guidelines for the short and long-term management of a parcel of community land owned by Council or Crown land under Council’s care, control and management.

A PoM outlines how a park, facility or civic space will be used, improved and managed in the future. It identifies Council’s goals and objectives for the land, and establishes the overall direction for its planning, resource management and maintenance.

Need for the PoM

The Crown Land Management Act 2016 (“CLM Act”) commenced on 1 July 2018, introducing a consolidated, modern piece of legislation to govern the management of Crown land in New South Wales.

The CLM Act introduces significant changes to the management of Crown land by councils. Specifically, councils are now required to manage dedicated or reserved Crown land as if it were public land under the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”). Crown reserves managed by the City of Sydney are now treated as “community land” under the LG Act requiring a PoM.

This Generic PoM contains a series of Crown reserves that provide Civic Spaces within the Central Sydney CBD. A Generic PoM is applicable to these spaces as they are small in footprint and exhibit similar characteristics and management requirements as outlined in Section 6 of this PoM.

Purpose of the PoM

Under section 36 of the Local Government Act 1993, a PoM must:

- Categorise the land in accordance with the legislation

- Contain objectives and performance targets for the management of the land
- Specify the means by which Council proposes to achieve the objectives and performance targets
- Specify how achievement of the objectives and performance targets are to be assessed

Under section 37 of the Local Government Act 1993, the PoM must also:

- Describe the condition of the land, any buildings or other improvements on the land as at the adoption of the plan
- Describe the use of the land
- State the purposes for which the land will be used.

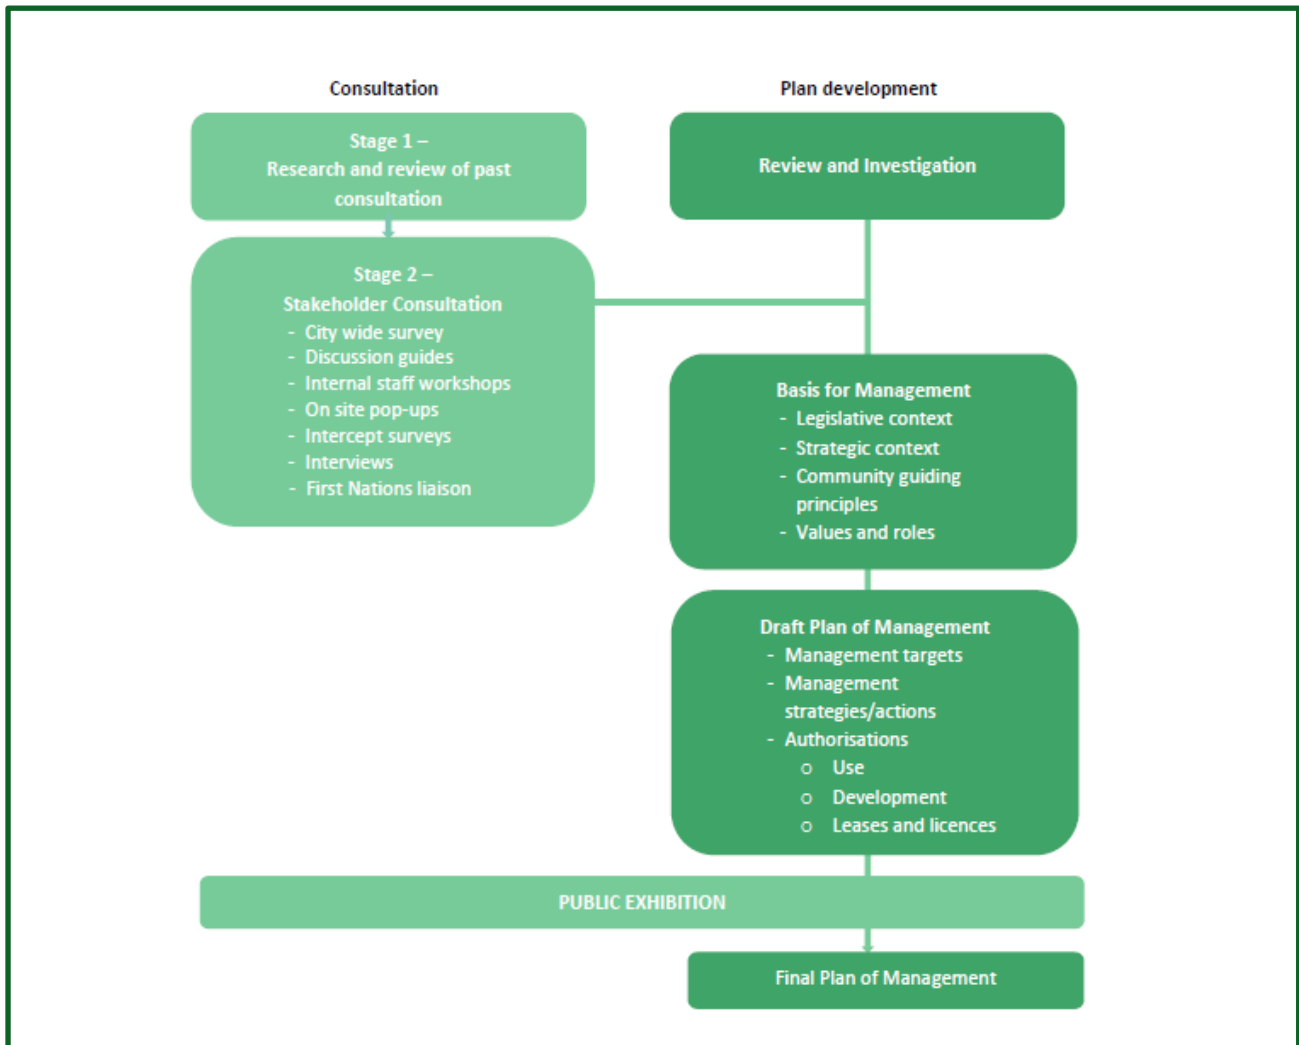

This PoM has been prepared in accordance with and seeks adoption under the LG Act and CLM Act.

Process for preparing the PoM

Figure 1 on the following page illustrates the process for preparing the PoM that has been undertaken by the City of Sydney.

The process has integrated extensive consultation with the broader community, First Nations stakeholders and other authority stakeholders.

Consultation

Purpose of the consultation program

The purpose of the community engagement was to understand the community's vision for Crown land spaces, how the community use the land now and how they would like to use the land in the future.

An important aspect of the engagement program was to recognise the important relationship that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples have to these spaces, strengthen the relationship with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and use the PoMs as an opportunity to further recognise and foster Aboriginal people's custodianship, living culture and connection to these places.

The opportunity to participate in the engagement program was communicated to the community via:

- A letter to local residents from the City of Sydney
- Sydney Your Say web page
- Notification signs in parks
- Decals with QR code on footpaths in parks, reserves and civic spaces
- E-newsletter sent to a targeted stakeholder list.

The Engagement program

The engagement program consisted of an online survey, intercept surveys and pop-ups at some of the Crown land spaces, a conversation guide and community and staff workshops.

The surveys and pop-up boards sought to gather statistical data around community values and uses of Crown land, and the workshops provided an opportunity for more in depth discussions around Crown land within different locations across the city and specifically with the First Nations community.

Children's activity kits were also sent to schools in the area and provided an opportunity for children in years 3-6 to participate.

Detailed findings of the engagement program are outlined in the separate Crown Reserves Plan of Management Engagement Report February 2021.

What we heard – community engagement

The community engagement report noted the following highlights:

- Strong support for the recognition and practice of First Nations peoples continuous connection to Country and important role as caretakers and knowledge holders of these spaces
- Public open spaces are important for mental health, wellbeing and provide a place of refuge and sanctuary for all
- Open, green and natural public spaces in the city are highly valued and should accommodate the needs of the growing population
- Accessible, safe and inclusive open spaces are important for everyone to enjoy
- Diverse and unique open spaces that manage our shared spaces fairly
- Open spaces that support wildlife and biodiversity
- Preserving our open spaces and safeguarding their history for the future
- Improving amenities in our open spaces to increase accessibility and support community use

City-wide survey: seek to understand community values and visions for their open spaces (informs both generic and specific Plans of Management)

Discussion guides: guided opportunity for regular user groups (e.g schools, sporting clubs) to map values, and places of significance.

Internal staff workshop: internal City of Sydney staff workshop

Engagement tools to inform general plans of management

City-wide survey: opportunity to comment on general issues in addition to specific parks according to preference.

Discussion guides: guided opportunity for regular user groups (e.g schools, sporting clubs) to map values, and places of significance.

On-site pop-ups/intercept surveys: pop-ups/intercept surveys in the specific parks at specific times to capture a wide variety of feedback.

Interviews with key stakeholders: We will conduct interviews with key external stakeholders.

Work in partnership with local First Nations leaders and groups: liaison with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander stakeholders.

Engagement tools to inform specific plans of management

Children told us they value parks because...

"It has at least one thing everybody likes"

"Its just beautiful"

"There is space"

"They make me happy"

"When going outdoors it's nice to be in a place that is well maintained and easy to access"

"I like having time with nature"

"Everyone's welcome there"

What we heard – First Nations engagement

A series of general principles for the integration of First Nations input into the management of Crown land in the City of Sydney were identified during the conversations. These included:

- Access to land as a human right of Indigenous peoples (UN Convention on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples)
- Recognition and respect for sacred sites and places
- Truth telling
- Talking about Country helps bring the community together
- The environment as living culture
- Importance of waterways and wetlands- rivers tell stories
- Creating opportunities for Aboriginal economic benefit
- First Nations design principles that recognise:
 - local cultural knowledge
 - sustainability and resilience

Putting the principles into action – potential ways that these principles can be followed through by Council and others were also discussed:

The environment as living culture

Imagine having a space like this in Sydney that is real and permanent, not just digital (in response to Brett Leavy's animation – Warrane)

- Respecting ancestral sites
- Connecting places by Songlines (these include many main roads in Sydney)
- Returning Country to how it was (pre-invasion)
- A holistic approach: not just land but also water, sky, seasons, cultural calendar, plants and animals
- Implement 'Caring for Country' principles (including maintenance, planting, holistic understanding of Country, etc.)
- Important to return the knowledge of waterways and wetlands. Rivers tell stories and are an historical link that have been covered up over time

- Commitment to healing Country
- Designing with Country – a number of participants referred to the work of the State Government Architect

Language and naming

The use of language needs to go beyond naming

- Dual naming in local language based on a geographical feature
- Incorporating Gadigal language into descriptions will help the community better understand the meaning of these places
- Recognising that the first language of this place is the authentic language
- Removal of colonial names of parks

Decolonising spaces and truth-telling

We need a different way of looking at 'monuments' – as significant, empowering, culturally correct markers of the truth

- Trees of significance as monuments
- Sites of significance as monuments
- Take leadership on dealing with colonial artefacts
- Gadigal artists creating new markers of truth

Visibility

We are here - this land was never ceded

- The need to make this more visible in Sydney
- Participants referenced how New Zealand is Indigenous culture, practices and perspectives visible to international visitors
- The potential to push digital notifications when walking on different bits of land (i.e. a notification to acknowledge/welcome to country, when you are close to a sacred site or a burial ground, etc.)
- Permanent acknowledgement in each space that enlivens and engages - not just commemorative

Significance of Sydney as the site of invasion and first contact

Make these important places recognisable to Aboriginal people

- Sydney as the first frontier means it is a critical place for truth-telling and healing trauma

CBD Civic Spaces
Draft Plan of Management

- Recognise the cultural disruption and diaspora in Sydney
- Burial grounds and should be part of truth-telling
- Recognise places of protest

Practicing and sharing culture and supporting community

- Returning cultural fishing (e.g. Woolloomooloo and Pyrmont)
- Dedicated spaces to practice culture and interact with the community
- Dedicated ceremonial spaces practical for events
- Maker-spaces (places for creating) that are culturally correct
- Locations to busk, make things, be social and demonstrate culture
- Importance of community festivals – Yabun at Victoria Park

Economic and cultural ownership and management

- Importance of cultural ownership and intellectual property rights
- Ongoing employment and business opportunities at all levels
- Making, markets, food, trading, learning etc should be able to be practiced somewhere permanently (not a one-off event)
- There are effective working examples of shared arrangements with State Government (DPIE) who work with Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council on protecting and managing places
- The Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council sought that the City of Sydney provides Crown Land or City-owned sites to MLALC for local Aboriginal community needs of culture, health wellbeing, housing and business
- The Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council asked that the City of Sydney support addressing the issue of underpayment of NSW Aboriginal Land Rights fund of $500 Million in perpetuity for all Freehold, Leasehold, Pastoral, National Parks, State Forests, Reserves and Parks as well as mineral and water

Advocacy/leadership/influence

- Encourage the City to take on the hard issues and use position to influence other organisations including other councils and government departments
- Work with other authorities who have ownership over Crown Land parcels
- Advocate and work at local, state and federal levels

Barriers

Several existing barriers to First Nations peoples cultural and spiritual use of Crown land were raised that the community want to see resolved. These include:

- Red-tape constraints to the economic use of spaces
- Barriers to the practice of living culture.

It is proposed that the City of Sydney continue to engage with the First Nations community to explore avenues to pursue the above principles and actions.

Section 5 of this plan details a series of “Community Guiding Principles”. It is proposed that ongoing management of Crown and community land pursue these principles.

Survey respondents were asked why they chose these values. Responses included:

- Maintaining outdoor areas is important for the future and to give the city a character (3 comments)
- Recognise Aboriginal peoples continuing connection to country
- Important to keep the area busy and have a space for people to visit after work
- Important to have spaces in the City that are welcoming to everyone, including more nature, greenery, grassed areas and trees
- It is great to people watch, to see how vibrant the city is whilst appreciating our heritage
- Queen's Square should be protected, and
- Good for users and visitors.

Respondents told us...

"I love this city, it's such an easy city to live in, and often doesn't get the credit it deserves. Spaces that are welcoming to everyone are critical as we welcome people back and nature should play a part...more green, more grass, more trees in the city make for a healthier city with more opportunities to spend time rather than pass through."

- Survey respondent

"Queen's Square is easy to overlook. But it sits in the heart of the City and should be protected."

- Survey respondent

"It is great to people watch, to see how vibrant the city is whilst appreciating our heritage."

- Survey respondent

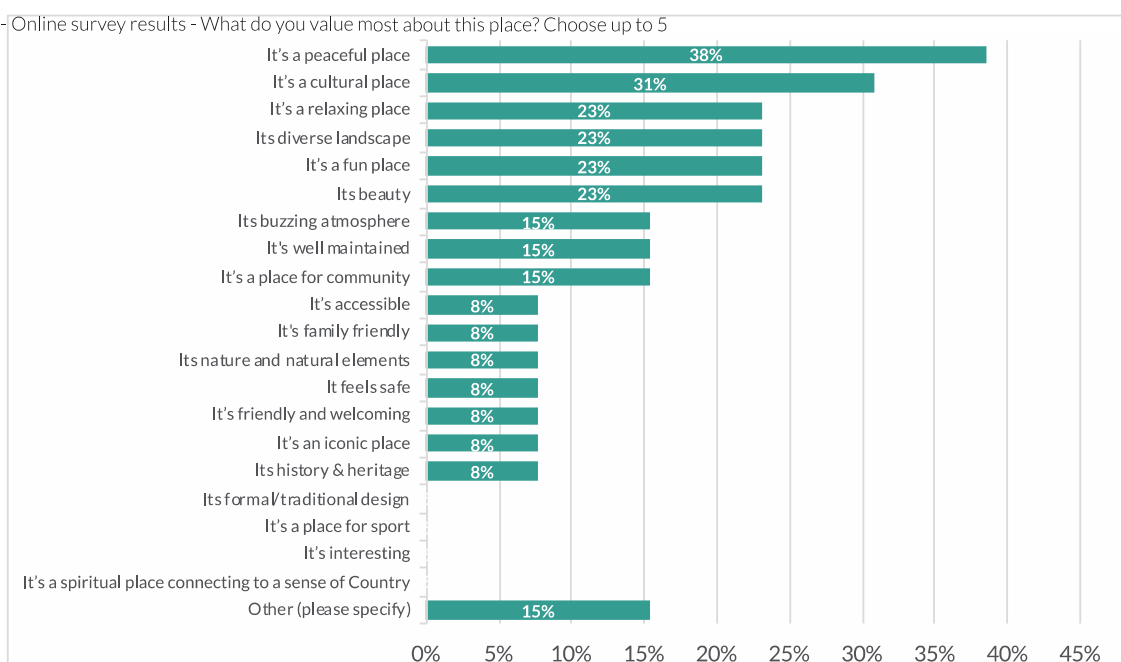

"Important to keep the area busy and have a space for people to visit after work. Relaxing places."

Current activities in CBD Civic spaces

Survey respondents were asked what activities they currently do in the CBD Civic spaces.

Almost half of survey respondents indicated the top activities they do in CBD Civic spaces is sitting and relaxing, eat lunch and walk through to get somewhere else (46%; 6 respondents, respectively).

This was followed by walking or running for exercise (38%; 5), sight-seeing/ enjoying the views and meeting with friends (31%; 5, respectively).

Future activities in CBD Civic spaces

When asked if there is anything else respondents would like to do in CBD Civic spaces in the future, comments included:

- Increase grassed areas, with a desire for grass in front of Customs House Square, Martin Place and George Street
- More trees and plants
- Have these places handed over to be social enterprises so that organisations that are addressing community issues can benefit from them rather than private enterprise
- Query around a proposal to establish an evening market in Queen's Square, and
- More opportunities to do community building activities alongside people from respective church groups in these spaces.

Additional comments about CBD Civic spaces

Survey respondents were asked if there was anything else they would like to share about CBD Civic spaces. Comments included:

- Embrace everyone and different user groups to these areas, such as skateboarders
- Opportunity to bring in food trucks, cinemas and markets into the area
- Opportunity for artists
- Improve sightseeing opportunities, and
- Support vulnerable community members.

Respondents told us...

"Embrace everyone. I'm not a skateboarder but I do think it's important to allow this community the freedom to play. I live in Central Park and I LOVE the fact that kids from all around come to skateboard here, there's a community and we need to give these kids the freedom to play - they are placemakers and probably future urbanists / city planners and architects. Also don't give up on places - The Goods Line is spectacular - needs to be extended (get street artists to create a monthly artwork by the tunnel) and encourage food trucks, outdoor cinemas, markets."

- Survey respondent

"I'd like to see more grass! What if the square in front of Customs House was covered in grass? What if Martin Place had sections of grass or George Street (thank you for pedestrianising) was an urban field with pathways and tramways. These civic spaces tend to be large paved areas with very little trees for shade, creating hot and uninviting spaces in summer."

- Survey respondent

"More trees and plants. These civic spaces tend to be large paved areas with very little trees for shade, creating hot and uninviting spaces in summer."

- Survey respondent

"I would like to have more opportunities to do community building activities alongside people from my church in these spaces."

2. Land description

Location and description

The CBD Civic Spaces are located within the Central Business District (“CBD”) of Sydney bounded by Circular Quay in the north, Hyde Park to the south, York Street to the west and Macquarie Street and the Botanic Gardens to the east.

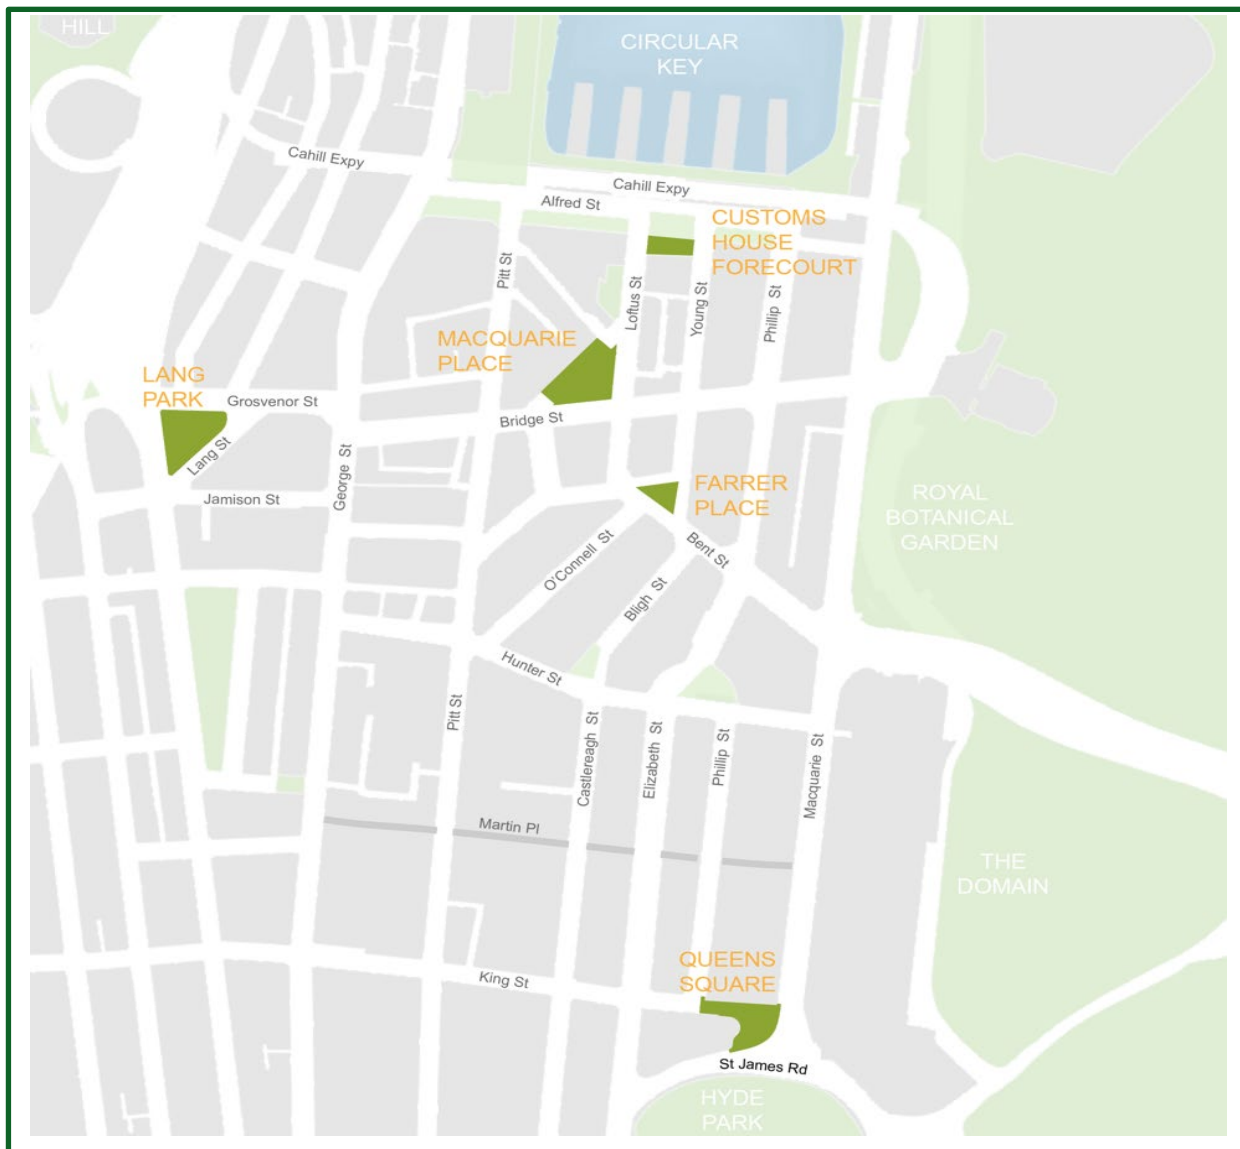

These spaces serve the commercial core of the city and are heavily used for movement around the CBD in addition to respite from the urban environment.

The study area encompasses some of Sydney’s oldest streets including Bridge and Bent Street, as well as the traces of the Tank Stream at Macquarie Place.

Table 1 on the following page summarises the key land information for the subject sites.

Heritage and culture

Overview

The CBD Civic Spaces comprise of five public spaces managed by the City of Sydney:

- Customs House Square
- Farrer Place
- Lang Park
- Macquarie Place Park
- Queens Square

The Sydney basin area supported the Eora Nation, comprising of more than 30 separate clans woven together across the region.

When the eleven ships of the First Fleet with one thousand or so people stepped ashore and set up camp in Sydney Cove in January 1788 — having relocated from Botany Bay — it was the Gadigal people that they first encountered.

The Gadigal initially confronted and made efforts to understand the colonisers and their intentions on Country. These exchanges are described in surviving colonial accounts.

Many places around the harbour remained important hunting, fishing and camping grounds long after settlement, and continue to be culturally significant today.

Despite the impacts of first contact, Gadigal people and their ways of life and culture survived. As the town of Sydney developed into a city, the Gadigal were joined by other Aboriginal people from around NSW to live, work and forge relationships with the urban Aboriginal community.

The CBD Civic Spaces evolved in different ways and at different times in the development of the city from Colonial times.

Some of these open spaces were accidents of planning, such as the irregular street alignment around Farrer Place forming a former street and triangular park. Yet others were intentional spaces such as Lang Park, Queens Square, Customs House Square and Macquarie Place Park.

Pocket parks within the City of Sydney provided open space for City residents and workers to get fresh air, be in contact with nature, exercise, rest and relax.

Macquarie Place Park, dedicated in 1866, foreshadows efforts by the City Council to provide public reserves to mitigate the overcrowded and noxious conditions existing in the growing Victorian City.

Following the 1909 Royal Commission for the Improvement of the City of Sydney and its Suburbs, the City Council embarked on a city beautification scheme which advocated street planting and the refurbishment of parks.

The Council also addressed the grouping of royal statues at the entrance to Hyde Park including the statue of Queen Victoria which forms the centrepiece of Queens Square today.

Each place has significant heritage values and is important to the people of Sydney. Many of these parks have historic associations, aesthetic values and landmark qualities evidenced through design, various plantings and monuments.

Overall Significance

The CBD Civic Spaces comprising of Customs House Square, Farrer Place, Lang Park, Macquarie Place Park and Queens Square have collective significance as they evidence various attitudes towards public space, town planning and development within the City of Sydney.

The various civic spaces illustrate the importance of dedicated public places and the continued evolution and achievements in the planning, services, design, construction, industry and growth of Sydney since Colonial times.

Each site embodies its own unique historical significance and social significance for the people of Sydney as well as landmark qualities through various plantings and monuments.

Farrer Place, Macquarie Place Park, Lang Park, and Queens Square all contain locally listed heritage items within the City of Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012.

Queens Square was also recently listed under the Australian National Heritage Register - #106103 – ‘Governors’ Domain and Civic Precinct, Macquarie St, Sydney’.

Environment and landscape

The following is an overview of the general characteristics of the CBD Civic Spaces. Information sheets are included in the Appendices with more specific commentary on the individual Crown reserves.

Four of the Crown reserves subject to this Plan of Management fall within the City North Public Domain precinct defined by the City of Sydney's "City of Villages" – and based around key community main streets and centres of business activity. Lang Park is west of City North and is within the Western Corridor precinct.

The study area encompasses some of Sydney's oldest streets, including Bridge and Bent Street, as well as the traces of the Tank Stream at Macquarie Place. This area comprises the commercial core of the city and is characterised by large office buildings providing premium office space.

Topography within the spaces is reflective of the surrounding landscape and ranges from flat at Customs House Square to steeply sloping at Lang Park and Farrer Place. Level changes in Macquarie Place Park and Queens Square are overcome by steps and low walls.

Given their limited scale, the character and amenity of the parks are strongly influenced by the adjoining streetscapes. Planting themes in the spaces are typical of the City of Sydney's parks. Macquarie Place Park and Lang Park have retained some trees from 19th century plantings. The other spaces have tree plantings set within raised planters or tree pits. Supplementary planting is provided by the City of Sydney's Living Colour planter boxes which are changed seasonally.

Reserve development

The CBD Civic Spaces comprising of Customs House Square, Farrer Place, Lang Park, Macquarie Place Park and Queens Square have evolved on diverse pathways within the city's structure and fabric. Regardless, the significance of these spaces to the function and amenity of the CBD has never been greater.

In recent years, the number of Development Applications for residential apartment buildings within the study area has increased resulting in a growing residential population.

This growth will result in increasing demand on the CBD's limited open space resources (streets, parks and squares) for both recreational and movement purposes.

Capital Works upgrades:

Current planned upgrades as part of the City of Sydney's 10 Year Capital Works Program include:

- Upgrade and renewal of Lang Park
- Upgrade and renewal of Queens Square.

Past studies and plans:

Reserve purpose and community use

Crown Reserve Purpose

Crown land is to be used for the original purpose for which it was dedicated or reserved. Multiple uses of reserves are encouraged, where those uses are consistent with the original purpose of the Crown reserve.

The public purposes for the CBD Civic Spaces include:

CBD Civic Spaces Draft Plan of Management

Community usage

The CBD Civic Spaces provide a variety of facilities and spaces for movement and informal uses which serve the local workforce, visitors and residents.

A review of usage in the City North Public Domain Study 2015, identified that the streets and public spaces are well-used in morning and afternoon peaks, and at lunchtime. The majority of workers within the area move from transport hubs at Circular Quay and Wynyard and use the few small parks and plazas in the area for lunchtime and breaks.

The growing residential population will progressively increase usage of these spaces outside of traditional workday peak times. In addition, there is a growing demand for uses such as outdoor dining during the evenings and at weekends.

Located near key tourist destinations, such as The Rocks, Circular Quay and the Botanic Gardens, visitors are a common presence in the area and through the subject spaces.

Recent user intercept surveys undertaken for the Crown Reserves Plan of Management in 2020, indicate that the most popular activities undertaken in the CBD Civic Spaces (by almost half of the respondents) were:

- Sitting and relaxing
- Eating lunch
- Walk through to get somewhere else

Followed by:

- Walking or running for exercise
- sight-seeing/ enjoying the views
- Meeting with friends

The majority (54%) of survey respondents were likely to work in the area followed by respondents who live nearby and visit the area (31%). Respondents were more likely to visit the spaces on a daily and weekly basis with the most popular time being in the afternoon (12pm-4pm). Morning and afternoon/evening were also noted as high usage times.

Event use of spaces

Many major events occur within the study area, with Circular Quay (including Customs House Square) one of the City of Sydney's most sought-after event locations. Smaller commercial and cultural events occur year-round, with major events such as New Year's Eve and Vivid festival attracting large crowds and international attention.

The following spaces have recorded use for events:

- Customs House Square - has hosted exhibitions, charitable fundraising, promotional events, live performance, live site, festivals, ceremony, community consultation and workshops. The City of Sydney registered a total of 25 events between 2016-19. Attendance levels are up to 2.5M visitors. The square hosts a number of major recurring events - Vivid and Bastille Festival: Food, Wine, Art, Revolution.
- Farrer Place – has hosted promotional events in the past.
- Macquarie Place Park - has hosted community consultation, promotional events and festivals. The City of Sydney registered a total 3 events in 2018 with no recurring events. Attendance levels have ranged from 200-500.
- Queens Square – has hosted festivals, commemoration ceremonies, and live performance events. The City of Sydney registered a total of 4 events between 2015-19. Attendance levels has ranged up to 1,000 people.

The adjoining streets to the Crown reserves are highly trafficked by pedestrians during major city events.

3. Legislative context

Ownership and management

The CBD Civic Spaces are Crown reserves owned by the State of New South Wales. The City of Sydney is the Crown land manager responsible for the management of the Crown reserves. Refer to Section 2, page 16 for further property details.

Relevant legislation

Crown Land Management Act 2016

Crown land is governed by the Crown Land Management Act 2016 (“CLM Act”). Historically, reserve trust managers were appointed as the custodians of Crown reserves. Upon the introduction of the CLM Act in 2018, the reserve trust regime was abolished. The management of Crown reserves is now delegated to Crown land managers, many of which are local councils.

The Objectives of the Crown Land Management Act 2016 under section 1.3 are identified as:

- Provide for the ownership, use and management of the Crown land of NSW
- Provide clarity concerning the law applicable to Crown land
- Require environmental, social, cultural heritage and economic considerations to be considered in decision-making about Crown land
- Provide for the consistent, efficient, fair and transparent management of Crown land for the benefit of the people of NSW
- Facilitate the use of Crown land by the Aboriginal people of NSW because of the spiritual, social, cultural and economic importance of land to Aboriginal people and, where appropriate, to enable the co-management of dedicated or reserved Crown land
- Provide for the management of Crown land having regard to the principles of Crown land management.

State Environmental Planning Policy – Infrastructure 2007

The State Environmental Planning Policy (Infrastructure) 2007 (“ISEPP”) aims to facilitate the effective delivery of infrastructure across NSW. The Infrastructure SEPP assists local government and the communities they support by simplifying the process for providing essential infrastructure.

The ISEPP has specific planning provisions and development controls for 25 types of infrastructure works or facilities including roads, emergency services, electricity delivery, parks and other public reserves and telecommunications networks.

The ISEPP outlines the planning rules for such works and facilities, including:

- Where such development can be undertaken
- What type of infrastructure development can be approved by a public authority under Part 5 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (“EP&A Act”) following an environmental assessment (known as ‘development without consent’)
- What type of development can be approved by the relevant local council, Minister for Planning or Department of Planning under Part 4 of the EP&A Act (known as ‘development with consent’)
- What type of development is exempt or complying development.

Of relevance to the CBD Civic Spaces is Clause 65 that specifies that development for any purpose may be carried out without consent if the development is for the purposes of implementing an adopted Plan of Management. The clause also lists a range of ancillary developments permitted without consent.

Clause 66 provides for a range of exempt developments within a public reserve such as the construction, maintenance and repair of walking tracks, boardwalks, stairways, gates, seats shelters and shade structures.

Applicable planning controls for the reserve

Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979

Local Environmental Plans are statutory planning tools that set controls over development in the area to which they apply and are one of the main instruments for implementing the EP&A Act. They contain zoning controls as well as controls for heritage conservation areas and protected areas, amongst other matters.

The CBD Civic Spaces are zoned RE1 – Public Recreation.

1 Objectives of zone

- To enable land to be used for public open space or recreational purposes
- To provide a range of recreational settings and activities and compatible land uses
- To protect and enhance the natural environment for recreational purposes
- To provide links between open space areas
- To retain and promote access by members of the public to areas in the public domain including recreation facilities and waterways and other natural features.

2 Permitted without consent

Native Title

On Crown land, Native Title rights and interests must be considered unless Native Title has been extinguished, surrendered, or determined by a court to no longer exist.

Dealings in land or water that affect (impair or extinguish) Native Title are referred to as 'Future Acts' and these acts must be done in compliance with the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) ("NT ACT"). The NT Act specifies procedures that must be followed before future acts can be done legally.

Some examples of acts which may affect Native Title on Crown land managed by the City of Sydney include:

- The construction of new buildings and other facilities such as toilet blocks, walking tracks, tennis courts, grandstands and barbecues
- The construction of extensions to existing buildings
- The construction of new roads
- Installation of infrastructure such as powerlines, sewerage pipes, etc.
- The creation of an easement
- The issue of a lease or licence
- The undertaking of major earthworks.

On Crown land, a future act undertaken by the City of Sydney which is not covered by one of the Future Act subdivisions of the NT Act will be invalid.

Section 8.7 of the Crown Land Management Act 2016 requires that written Native Title Manager advice is required before a council Crown land manager does any of the following:

- a. Grants leases, licences, permits, forestry rights, easements or rights of way over the land
- b. Mortgages the land or allows it to be mortgaged
- c. Imposes, requires or agrees to covenants, conditions or other restrictions on use (or removes or releases, or agrees to remove or release, covenants, conditions, or other restrictions on use) in connection with dealings involving the land
- d. Approves (or submits for approval) a plan of management for the land that authorises or permits any of the kinds of dealings referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c). Accordingly, Native Title Manager advice must be obtained prior to the approval (or submittal for approval) of a PoM that allows a dealing in (a)–(c) and the execution of any lease, licence, permit, etc. that may be authorised under that plan.

The City of Sydney's Native Title Manager has been and will continue to be consulted in all relevant aspects of Native Title pertaining to the land that is covered by this Plan of Management.

Heritage management

The planning and management of the CBD Civic Spaces must recognise and adhere to the requirements applicable to Local, State and National heritage listings.

4. Strategic context

Past planning and management

Planning and management directions have been established for the CBD Civic Spaces through past master planning (2015) and city-wide strategic planning (2016). This Plan of Management references the City North Public Domain Plan 2015 as the current planning direction for the CBD Civic Spaces.

Key strategic directions

The following guiding strategic directions are summarised for the planning and management of the CBD Civic Spaces.

City North Public Domain Plan 2015 – Guiding Directions

Strengthen north-south streets and encourage east-west pedestrian permeability.

- Creating clear, legible and clutter-free routes along the City of Sydney's north-south streets will contribute to the walkability of the city and allow improved access to public spaces and transport interchange.
- Enhancing the strong north-south corridors with finer-grain, meandering east-west streets and lanes creates a connected and permeable network.

Reinforce a connected public space at Circular Quay and create a unified square from the building edge to the water

- One of the keys aims of Sydney's 2030 vision is to establish Circular Quay as one of the City of Sydney's premier public spaces, linking the city to the water. The long-term vision of a unified Circular Quay underpins this plan.

Create a linked series of park and garden spaces and upgrade existing open spaces

- Preserving and upgrading our existing parks will help them cater to the increased usage that will come with the growing city population.
- In City North there is the opportunity to link existing pockets of green space with avenues of street tree planting, in accordance with the City of Sydney's Street Tree Master Plan, creating a high-quality green network.

Support and encourage active building edges and high-quality activation of the public domain.

- Active building uses that spill out into the public domain can help activate currently underused areas and can provide places for people to stop and enjoy the city.
- These uses are important to increase amenity in open spaces, near parks and to provide services near transport hubs.
- High quality active edges are important to define the character of significant places such as Circular Quay and Martin Place.

Site specific objectives:

Customs House Square

Create a cohesive and robust public domain backdrop to one of Sydney's most important historic, cultural, and social interchanges. Critically the objective is to link Alfred Street to a wider vision of the "Water Square" tying Alfred Street and its associated spaces with Circular Quay.

Farrar Place

Enliven and activate Farrer Place to make it more comfortable and inviting and allow free pedestrian movement.

City North Streetscapes and Spaces - Concept Design Master Plan

The following concept design information for the City North Streetscape and Spaces is referenced as a further guiding direction for key spaces.

The Concept Vision aims to celebrate the unique location through ‘the water mark’, a notional line that defines the historic demarcation of the water from the city.

Using this as a guiding vision the project refines these key city spaces and street into an uncluttered, legible and world class civic space.

The Master Plan - Clear Legible Poetic

- A. Clearly defined spaces, that encourage ease of movement and activation.
- B. Clear north-south views and pedestrian movement and a more meandering east-west movement through immersive, green and engaging spaces.
- C. Revealing and celebrating the poetics of the place.

Concepts relevant to this Plan of Management include:

- Custom House Square: Creation of “Water Square” through consistent paving, de-cluttering, and consolidation of tree planting.
- Macquarie Place Park: Upgrade of Macquarie Place Park, celebrating and revealing Sydney’s first public space.
- Farrar Place: Beautification of Farrer Place through replanting, bespoke kiosks, and paving treatments.

Open Space, Sports and Recreation Study 2016

Small Parks Upgrade Program

These parks are an important component of the network providing convenient short stay recreation opportunities within a 10 minute walk from most residences. The range of capital improvements undertaken in this program include replacement and upgrade of play equipment, softfall, park furniture, shade structures, paths, lighting, tree/landscape planting and turf works.

Works currently listed under the small parks upgrade program include:

- Lang Park: Park renewal for improved use, connectivity and activation as part of the City of Sydney’s 10 Year Capital Works Program.

City Centre Public Space Upgrade Program

The City Centre Public Domain Plan will direct the improvement activation and provision of public spaces for social activities and better pedestrian amenity. In addition, spaces for people to undertake lunch time sport and children to play also need to be key strategic outcomes. Improvements to existing spaces were identified within the series of public domain plans.

Key Directions/Projects include:

- Queens Square: Implementation of the above.

Demographic context

As part of the Plan of Management process Cred Consulting reviewed the demographic and recreational context of the subject Crown reserves which provides useful background to ongoing planning and management.

Key observations are summarised following:

More residents

The City of Sydney’s increasing resident population and density will result in more use and capacity pressures on all levels of the open space network, particularly the larger parks that offer opportunities for active sport.

The majority of population growth will be accommodated in various urban renewal areas. This trend will continue over the next 10-15 years.

The planning of urban renewal areas will provide opportunities to increase the open space and recreation facility network provision and provide linkages to the established open space network.

More workers and visitors

In the city centre and other concentrations of workforce population and visitors the quality of public spaces to allow people to lunch sit and socialise as well as provision of larger spaces for lunch time sport and exercise needs to be an important consideration.

Increasing density

Open space provision will be critical to the liveability of higher density urban areas by supporting community well-being, physical activity, social interaction, and a sense of space within an otherwise intensive built environment.

More lone persons

The acceptance for high density housing in order to live close to the city centre and lone person households' places importance on the distribution of the open space network to ensure people have convenient access to a park that serves as a "backyard" and facilitates social interaction and recreation opportunities. Open space planning and management is an important component of the liveability and quality of high density developments.

More young and old people

The age structure profiles increasing in the city of families with young children, young adults, and older people are expected to be heavy users of open space network.

In 2041, 47% of the City of Sydney's residents will be between 18 and 34 years of age. This age group has high participation rates in active sports and recreation, and many reside in new high density urban renewal areas which suggests higher density communities could potential be very active communities and will require opportunities for physical activity and social interaction.

The open space network needs to be flexible and provide a diverse offer of recreational, social, cultural and creative activities and facilities to cater for various age, cultural and income groups.

Total population

City of Sydney is forecast to grow by 949,824 people or 37% in 2041. The highest growth will be in Green Square-City South, CBD-Harbour, Chinatown-CBD South and Redfern Street villages respectively.

Service age structure

Decrease in the proportion of 25 to 49 year old people

While the working age population will remain the largest demographic group to 2041, the proportion of this age group decreases across the Local Government Area ("LGA"). The villages with the most significant change in this age group proportion will be King Street (-5%), Glebe Point Road (-4%), Harris Street (-4%), Macleay Street-Woolloomooloo (-4%) and Oxford Street (-4%).

Increase in the proportion of 60 to 84 year old people

The proportion of people aged between 60 and 84 years is forecast to increase by 2% in 2041. While the increase in proportion of 60 to 69 year old people is consistent across all villages within the LGA, the increase in proportion of 70 to 84 year old people varies. The villages with the highest increase in proportion of 70 to 84 year old people will be Glebe Point Road (+4%), Crown – Baptist Streets (+3%), Harris Street (+3%), Macleay Street-Woolloomooloo (+3%) and Oxford Street (+3%).

Households

The total number of dwellings in the LGA is forecast to increase by 35%. The villages that will see the highest increase in number of households are CBD-Harbour, Green Square – City South and Redfern Street. Villages including CBD-Harbour and Redfern Street with a high number of Crown lands will cater to an increasing number of households by 2041.

Household type

The overall LGA is forecast to see a high increase in households with one parent families and group households. However, there are variations in forecast household type across the villages including those within this Plan of Management study area:

- CBD-Harbour and Redfern Street will have a steep increase in one parent families
- Chinatown – CBD South, Harris street and Crown – Baptist Streets will see a high increase in one parent families
- Macleay Street – Woolloomooloo will have an increase in other families, followed by one parent families
- Oxford Street will have an increase in other families, followed by lone person households.

Overnight and daily visitors

The City of Sydney is Sydney's premier metropolitan core that contains regional and village level services including retail to health, education to entertainment. The Sydney CBD and surrounds are also attractive places for tourists to visit, explore and stay overnight.

Given the diversity of offerings across the LGA, visitors are distributed to places such as Oxford Street, Kings Cross/Darlinghurst, Newtown, the Rocks, Chinatown and Central Station. Accommodation is provided throughout the LGA via short term rental accommodation as well as through traditional hotel and hostel services. The City of Sydney experiences 680,000 daily and overnight visitors for range of purposes and services including:

- Shopping
- Health and education
- Recreation and entertainment
- Accommodation
- Personal business
- Work related business

It is forecast that this will grow to approximately 860,000 by 2036. (Source: Infrastructure Baseline Assessment, City of Sydney, 2019)

Social and cultural considerations (as per 2016 census data)

Cultural diversity

47.7% of City of Sydney population are born overseas with top countries of birth being China, United Kingdom and Thailand. Village areas with highest born overseas rates include Chinatown and CBD South (76%), Harris Street (57.1%) and Green Square and City South (54.7%).

36.1% of City of Sydney population speak a language other than English with top languages being Mandarin, Thai and Cantonese. Village areas with highest percentage of other language speakers include Chinatown and CBD South (71%), Harris Street (47.1%) and Green Square and City South (45.9%).

Low-income households

18.2% of households in City of Sydney LGA are characterised as low-income households. Village areas with highest percentage of low-income households include Redfern Street (29.5%), Chinatown and CBD South (17.5%) and King Street (15.6%).

Socio-Economic Indexes for Areas (SEIFA Index)

City of Sydney has a SEIFA index 1,027. Village areas with lowest SEIFA scores being Chinatown and CBD South (940.2) and Redfern Street (970.2).

City of Sydney Policy and Strategy framework

The City of Sydney has developed an extensive range of policies which provide guidance to Council decision-making. A number of these influence planning and management decision-making for open space and must be referred to in conjunction with this Plan of Management.

The City of Sydney has also developed a range of strategies focused on specific issues. While strategies are high-level guideline documents and usually carry less influence than policies, they can provide important references for the planning and management of open space.

Generally, policy guidance for the management of specific issues shall take precedence where no guidance is provided in the plan. However, all decision-making, and ongoing management must also have regard to the conservation of the specific park values and application of the core objectives of the applicable community land category/categories.

A summary of the key policies and strategies is provided in the Appendices.

Future Policy and Strategy guidance

In addition, it is intended that future policy and strategy development should also inform specific aspects of reserve planning and management as applicable.

5. Community guiding principles

The City of Sydney acknowledges the Gadigal of the Eora Nation as the Traditional Custodians of our local area, and we acknowledge their continued connection to Country. We pay respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders past, present and emerging.

Community and place

These are the principles for our plans of management for Crown and community land. They were developed by listening to our communities – Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, community gardeners, bushcare contributors, local residents, school children, city workers and visitors. And they reflect their values.

These principles are guided by the world view of Aboriginal people. They reframe our systemic relationship with the land. Since invasion, the relationship between people and land has been disrupted with little respect for the land, animals, waterways, and First Peoples. We've seen the extinction of plants and animals and damage to waterways and land. Aboriginal lives have been lost in trying to protect country. By challenging our approach in this way, we hope to cause no further harm and begin to heal.

The City of Sydney has an important role as caretaker of these places. We will consciously consider these principles in the decisions we make for the Crown and community land we are responsible for. This includes how we maintain, change, and manage this land.

Aboriginal world view of Country – First Nations workshop participant

Country is our identity; spiritually, culturally, physically, and socially. We refer to Country as part of the family. We speak to Country; we sing to Country; and we dance for Country.

Increasingly we worry for Country and seek greater protection measures to carry out our cultural obligations to the land and waterways. These are our fundamental rights and cultural responsibilities in protecting country as First Nations People.

We are on Gadigal Country

These principles are founded in the understanding of Country in the worldview of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. This understanding of Country includes the landscape – land, water and sky, the plants and animals, and the relationship between these. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people responsibility for care of Country and the continuation of these relationships. Country has existed in this place for thousands of generations. Country precedes the colonial boundaries and definitions of 'Crown land'. We acknowledge the responsibility that First Nations People have in the carriage of their living cultures including access to land for practising culture. Crown and community land should bring social, spiritual, and economic benefit to First Nations People.

We commit to truth-telling and decolonisation

Gadigal Country was never ceded. In managing the Crown and Community land in Gadigal Country, we recognise the significance of this land as the site of invasion.

We work towards telling the history of these places with honesty and acknowledge the negative impacts caused to Country and to the people.

We endeavour to cause no further harm to Aboriginal people and the relationship they hold to the land.

We challenge ourselves to decolonise our approach to managing Crown and community land. This is evident in the decisions we make as we manage these places.

We value how important these places are to people's wellbeing

Crown and community land are a place of refuge and respite in an intensely urban environment. These places have cultural and community significance to many people. They are places of shared identity and pride, of community connection and celebration, and of protest and social transformation. They must be welcoming to all people and will provide equity of access to all to enjoy. We strengthen the connections between and within these places.

We are guided by Country and strive to heal and care for it

We learn about how this Country has been cared for thousands of generations. We respect the natural landforms, waterways, and endemic species. We work to heal places that have suffered degradation. We support these places to play their role in the health of the whole environment.

We protect these places for future generations

We accept our role as caretakers of these places. These places must benefit the community now and in the future. As we face a changing climate and growing population, we make decisions that prepare these places and ensure their continued health into the future.

Open space classification and rationale for this plan

The Crown reserves subject to this Plan of Management form a diverse but complementary group of open space within the City North Public Domain area within the CBD.

The Crown reserves are also generally classified as “Neighbourhood” spaces under the City of Sydney’s Open Space, Sports and Recreation Needs Study 2016 – Volume 5 appendices - “Open Space Hierarchy Classifications”.

An exception to this is Queens Square which is classified as “Local”.

The geographical clustering of the Civic Spaces provides a strong rationale for their grouping under this Generic Plan of Management. This is reinforced by the desirability of managing these Civic Spaces in a coordinated and cohesive manner given their interaction and inter-reliance from a usage and public domain perspective.

Reflecting Crown reserve purpose

Under the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”), all community land is required to be categorised. Where the land is owned by Crown Lands, one or more categories may be assigned that should align with the public purposes for which the land was dedicated or reserved.

The public purposes for the subject Crown reserves are Public Recreation and Access.

Current / existing use

In accordance with Crown Lands requirements, the City of Sydney has established initial categorisations for the CBD Civic Spaces. The application of these categorisations is consistent with the way in which these Crown reserves are currently used and has been endorsed by Crown Lands.

Any change to the initial categorisation to support a future use should be altered via an amendment to the Plan of Management and in accordance requirements under the LG Act.

Table 3 (page 34) identifies the community land categorisations in the context of the Crown reserves contained within this Generic Plan of Management.

Characteristics of the land

The physical characteristics of the land must be considered in applying community land categorisations. Land that possesses a significant geological feature, geomorphological feature, landform, representative system or other natural feature should be considered for categorisation as one of the Natural Area categories. In such a case the plan should describe the related characteristics of the land.

For the CBD Civic Spaces there are no site characteristics that would justify the Natural Area categorisation.

Likewise, where land is of Aboriginal or historical heritage significance Council should consider whether Area of Cultural Significance is applicable. This should consider whether there are heritage listings or controls on the land that address heritage conservation. Where such protections are not afforded and a site warrants heritage significance, the Area of Cultural Significance category may be applicable.

For the CBD Civic Spaces, Section 2 describes the heritage characteristics of the land, and the applicable listings and controls. These will be considered in all management decisions related to the land. The additional layer of Area of Cultural Significance categorisation is not deemed to be required.

Proposed community land categorisations

Table 2 outlines the guidelines for categorisation as listed in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2005 - Part 3 - categorisation, use and management of community land for the applicable categories to the CBD Civic Spaces. Under the guidelines for each category, their interpretation and application to the CBD Civic Spaces is explained.

In addition, the core objectives and purpose (as outlined in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2005), are also listed.

Table 2. Community land categorisation

Guidelines for categorisation and application to CBD Civic Spaces	Core objectives for management
Park Land should be categorised as a park under section 36 (4) of the Act if the land is, or is proposed to be, improved by landscaping, gardens or the provision of non-sporting equipment and facilities, for use mainly for passive or active recreational, social, educational and cultural pursuits that do not unduly intrude on the peaceful enjoyment of the land by others Application The Park categorisation applies to dedicated areas of greenspace contained within the Crown reserves such as Lang Park and Macquarie Place Park. The categorisation enables these spaces to be used and developed to complement social and passive recreational activities.	The core objectives for management of community land categorised as a park are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) to encourage, promote and facilitate recreational, cultural, social and educational pastimes and activities, and (b) to provide for passive recreational activities or pastimes and for the casual playing of games, and (c) to improve the land in such a way as to promote and facilitate its use to achieve the other core objectives for its management.
General Community Use Land should be categorised as general community use under section 36 (4) of the Act if the land: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) may be made available for use for any purpose for which community land may be used, whether by the public at large or by specific sections of the public, and (b) is not required to be categorised as a natural area under section 36A, 36B or 36C of the Act and does not satisfy the guidelines under clauses 102–105 for categorisation as a natural area, a sportsground, a park or an area of cultural significance. Application The General Community Use categorisation applies to dedicated areas of hardstand contained within the Crown reserves. The categorisation will enable these spaces to be used for activities such as outdoor dining and events and maintain continued access as a pedestrian thoroughfare.	The core objectives for management of community land categorised as general community use are to promote, encourage and provide for the use of the land, and to provide facilities on the land, to meet the current and future needs of the local community and of the wider public: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) in relation to public recreation and the physical, cultural, social and intellectual welfare or development of individual members of the public, and (b) in relation to purposes for which a lease, licence or other estate may be granted in respect of the land (other than the provision of public utilities and works associated with or ancillary to public utilities).

7. Review of the plan

Lifespan of the plan

If the Plan of Management (“PoM”) is to remain relevant in the future it is essential that its implementation is reviewed on a regular basis to ensure any relevant changes are incorporated.

Changes that may need to be addressed include:

- New legislation
- Changes in community values
- Inclusion of additional land
- Project priorities
- Funding resources
- New opportunities for future upgrades.

Given that community expectations and requirements change over time, this plan also needs to have some flexibility to adapt to any changes of circumstance.

Other triggers for review / update

Should a major development or works be proposed that is not represented in the authorised uses and developments listings, the PoM will require amending.

Should changes in categorisation be proposed, the PoM will require amendment, re-exhibition and the need to undertake a public hearing prior to adoption.

Process for review

It is recommended that the plan be reviewed in the following sequences and time spans:

Annually: monitor progress of PoM

Every five years: undertake a review of all values based on revised analysis, issues and amended planning legislation review outcomes against survey information, photographic record and register of correspondence review and amend the PoM, where required

Every ten years: review of the PoM

Part B

Management of community land categories

8. General requirements

This section sets out the specific requirements for the individual management areas located within the CBD Civic Spaces and is applicable to the community land categories, as outlined in Section 6 of this Plan of Management (“PoM”).

Management Framework

A Management Framework is provided in Section 9 of this PoM. It provides a decision-making framework for the future management of the CBD Civic Spaces and addresses the requirements of section 36 of the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”).

Management targets

The framework sets out management targets that define a series of “desired outcomes” for the management of the CBD Civic Spaces. The outcomes seek to conserve and enhance the values of the CBD Civic Spaces and address management challenges and opportunities identified by the community and City of Sydney.

Means of implementation

In response to the identified management targets, the means of implementation define the recommended strategies to be implemented over the life of this PoM.

Assessment indicators and measurement

A means of assessing the achievement of the identified management targets is provided for ongoing monitoring and evaluation.

Permitted development and use

Section 36 of the LG Act states that a PoM must expressly authorise any proposed uses and development activities on community land.

The City of Sydney encourages a wide range of uses on community land and intends to facilitate uses which increase the activation of the land, where appropriate. The use of community land is often supported by appropriate ancillary development such as playground equipment, amenity blocks or food kiosks.

The general types of uses which may occur on community land categorised as Park and General Community Use, and the forms of development generally associated with those uses, are set out in Sections 10-11 within this PoM.

Any proposal for the development and use of buildings, structures and spaces within the CBD Civic Spaces will be considered on merit and benefits to the community and balanced against physical constraints, the amenity of adjoining residents and land uses.

Restrictions on management of Crown land

The City of Sydney is the Crown land manager of the Crown reserves described within this PoM in accordance with the legislation and conditions imposed by the minister administering the Crown Land Management Act 2016. The use and development of the land described in this PoM must:

- Be consistent with the purposes for which the land was dedicated or reserved
- Consider native title rights and interests and be consistent with the provisions of the Commonwealth Native Title Act 1993
- Consider the inchoate interests of Aboriginal people where an undetermined Aboriginal Land Claim exists
- Consider and not be in conflict with any interests and rights granted under the Crown Land Management Act 2016
- Consider any interests held on title.

Legislative requirements

The Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (“LEP”) specifies the range of uses and activities that may be permitted on the land, in accordance with the relevant zoning and associated objectives. Several uses are also set out in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2005.

Guidelines and core objectives of the community land category

Under the LG Act, uses and the development of community land must be consistent with the guidelines for categorisation, the core objectives of each category, and any other additional objectives that Council proposes to place on the community land categories.

Consistency with Council adopted policies and strategies

Relevant Council policies and strategies as at the date of adoption of this PoM are identified in the Appendices and have been used to guide the outcomes of this PoM.

Council’s adopted policies and strategies will continue to develop after the preparation of this PoM. Management of the City of Sydney’s assets, and their development will consider existing policies and strategic frameworks at the relevant time.

In addition, activities that involve the representation or depiction of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples heritage or living culture must also adhere to Indigenous Cultural and Intellectual Protocols.

- Core objectives of the categories that apply to the land
- Crown reserve purpose
- LEP and any other applicable Environmental Planning Instruments
- Applicable master plans, asset management plans and any subsequent detailed design plans.

Consistent with the objectives of this PoM, development activities must also include sustainable initiatives and measures, where feasible.

Native Title and Public Works

Where it is proposed to construct, establish a public work, or lease or licence activities on reserved or dedicated Crown land where Native Title is not extinguished, prior to approval, the City of Sydney will ensure that Native Title Manager advice is sought to ensure that the works can be validated under the Native Title Act 1993 and the appropriate native title holders, claimants or NTSCorp will be provided the appropriate procedural rights as required under the Native Title Act 1993.

Assessment and approval of permissible uses and development activities

The authorisation in a PoM gives ‘in principle’ support for uses and development activities consistent with the objectives for land categorisation to proceed to development assessment under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (“EP&A Act”).

This PoM does not in itself imply or grant consent for uses or development activities. Any proposed uses and development activities which are consistent with this PoM must still be referred for development consent and where required, be advertised widely for information and invitation to comment. Any subsequent application for development consent would be supported by and assessed against this PoM.

Buildings and structures

Express authorisation

This PoM expressly authorises the development of new buildings, structures and civil infrastructure, and the redevelopment / refurbishment of buildings, structures and civil infrastructure which support the desired use of the CBD Civic Spaces.

Such buildings, structures and civil infrastructure will not materially harm the use of the land for any of the purposes in which it has been dedicated or reserved and will be consistent with the:

Prohibited activities

Activities and uses that are inconsistent with the Crown reserve purpose or core objectives associated with the applicable community land categories are prohibited.

Certain activities within the CBD Civic Spaces may also be prohibited by the applicable land use zoning. The City of Sydney may prohibit certain activities from time to time. Prohibited uses will be communicated via City bookings, lease, and licence agreements, or otherwise communicated where prohibited activities may be temporary.

Managing impacts on adjoining land uses

Uses and activities permitted within the CBD Civic Spaces must consider the needs of and impacts on residents, workers and adjoining land uses in terms of accessibility, noise, lighting, traffic and parking.

Scale and intensity of use

The scale and intensity of development and activities on Crown and community land is to be generally compatible with the scale and anticipated use of the park, reserve and associated facility.

In particular, the scale and intensity of use will be consistent with the carrying capacity of the land, and any master plan or development consent relating to the land.

High Intensity use

This PoM specifically authorises activities within the CBD Civic Spaces which may attract high numbers of people including one-off community events and performances.

Applications for permissible activities will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by Outdoor Venue Management.

The scale and intensity of such activities will be managed by the City of Sydney's booking process and associated conditions of use.

Informal use

The intensity of use for informal recreational activities across the CBD Civic Spaces and settings will be determined by the community use of the site but will be managed to avoid undue impacts on reserve fabric and environment.

Commercial uses

Commercial operations for cafes, markets and kiosks that support and encourage community use of the open space, and/or address a community need are to be assessed based on the proposed scale and intensity of use and are authorised subject to compatibility with the objectives identified within this PoM.

Funding

Funding is integral to implementing the management targets identified with this PoM and is defined under two categories:

- Capital works involving the construction and development of new facilities and structures
- Maintenance and management of the reserves.

The implementation of this PoM is achieved through its linkage with Council's management plan, operational budget, and capital works program.

Council currently funds management and maintenance costs through its annual budget allocation and uses capital funds and 7.11 contributions for capital and nonrecurrent works.

Funding arrangements for the reserves need to address recurrent costs of management and maintenance, together with capital costs for new facilities or upgrading works. Funding for construction of new facilities is generally through the annual budgeting process, but special projects may be partly funded through NSW Government grant allocations, which may involve matching funding from Council.

Sources of funding include but are not limited to:

- 7.11 contributions – utilised for new landscaping and/or facilities complementary to the core management objectives.
- Partnerships – there is an opportunity to develop further partnerships with residents and interested people in relation to park improvements and ongoing management, such as bush regeneration.

- Reserve revenue – income from the reserve is generated by lease and licence fees, and from applicants for approved functions and events.
- Grants – several state and federal government grants are available to assist with capital works in the reserves.

What are leases and licences

Leases and licences formalise the use of Crown and community land by groups such as sporting clubs, community groups and schools, or by commercial organisations and individuals providing facilities or services for public use. The occupation of Crown and community land not only applies to the surface of the land but may also include the airspace above and subsurface below.

A lease is normally issued where exclusive control of all or part of an area by a user is proposed. Licences allow multiple and non-exclusive use of an area. A licence may be required where intermittent or short-term use or control of all or part of the park, reserve or associated facilities are proposed. Several licences for different users can apply to the same area at the same time, provided there is no conflict of interest.

The City of Sydney's ability to lease or licence Crown reserves managed as community land, such as the CBD Civic Spaces is authorised by section 3.22 of the CLM Act, which requires the preparation of a community land PoM, adopted by Council, to authorise an occupancy or use agreement.

Authorisation of leases and licences

Tenure may be granted for exclusive and non-exclusive uses to any organisation for any compatible purpose, as determined by Council, on such terms as Council may provide.

Under section 46 of the LG Act, a lease or licence may only be granted for a maximum term of 21 years, including options. A lease or licence for a term exceeding 5 years may be granted only by tender unless it is granted to a non-profit organisation. All leases and licences must be publicly notified for a minimum period of 28 days.

To ensure that usage or occupation of the reserve are appropriate for the lease or licence, a council Crown land manager must always consider:

- Compatibility with the Crown reserve purpose, and core objectives for the category of the land
- Compatibility with the applicable land zoning
- If development consent is required and has been obtained (and other consents under the EP&A Act and LG Act)
- Environmental and social impacts of the activities to be permitted by the lease or licence
- Appropriate term (period of occupation) of the lease or licence
- Capability of the Crown reserve to support the proposed lease or licence
- Current and future use of the land
- If the issue of the lease, licence or other estate will materially harm the use of the land for any of the purposes for which it was dedicated or reserved.

In addition to the conditions provided within the authorisations, the granting of a lease, licence, short-term use or other estate must also:

- Have no negative impact on historical heritage sites or significant fabric
- Not alienate the park or reserve unreasonably
- Be ecologically sustainable
- Have a component of community benefit
- Demonstrate a clear nexus between the activity and the park or Crown reserve
- Not result in overuse of the area or conflict with community use of the area
- Ensure traffic, parking and essential or required vehicular access implications are considered
- Be in accordance with all Council policies and procedures governing the use of open space.

A use agreement (lease, licence, short-term use or other estate) on Crown land may impact Native Title rights and interests. A use agreement issued on Crown land must be issued in accordance with Future Act provisions of the Native Title Act 1993, and in accordance with Part 8 of the CLM Act unless Native Title is extinguished. For Crown land, which is not excluded land, this will require written advice from the City of Sydney's Native Title Manager that it complies with any applicable provisions of the Native Title legislation.

Where the land is subject to a claim under the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 the issue of any lease, licence or other estate will not prevent the land from being transferred in the event the claim is granted.

Express authorisation of Leases, Licences, Short-term Uses and Other Estates under this Plan of Management

Sections 10-11 detail the specific authorisations and purposes for which tenure may be granted in accordance with the community land categories for the CBD Civic Spaces.

The purposes for which tenure may be granted are consistent with existing uses and will enable the social, intellectual, spiritual and physical enrichment of residents, workers, and visitors to the City of Sydney area.

The following outlines general authorisations applicable under this PoM and an indication of the criteria in which specific activities are to be assessed by the City of Sydney.

- A performance bond as prescribed in Council's Schedule of Fees and Charges in respect of potential damage to City assets is lodged with the City of Sydney
- All necessary approvals have been obtained
- The City of Sydney is in receipt of proof of suitable insurances including public liability insurance.

The City of Sydney chooses not to charge for the use of its parks and open spaces for outdoor fitness training as it does not wish to create a barrier to participating in physical exercise.

Personal fitness trainers including commercial, not-for-profit and community groups, wishing to train outdoors in Council's local government area are expected to comply with the Outdoor Fitness Training Voluntary Code of Conduct and its criteria for use.

Fitness training groups and activities that are exempt from this Code are:

- Walking groups

Other Estates

Easements across Crown and community land for the purpose of public utilities, providing pipes, conduits or other connections under the surface of the ground, for the connection of premises adjoining the community land to a facility on the community land shall be authorised by this Plan of Management, and shall be subject to the following criteria:

- There is no feasible alternative to connecting to a facility on the community land
- There is no significant impact on the Crown reserve
- Where the proposal involves the creation of an easement and/or a restriction on the future development potential of the property, compensation is assessed.

In instances where there is an encroachment (existing or proposed) upon public land by a permanent structure, and the structure does not significantly interfere with the functioning of the reserve, the City of Sydney may consider the creation of an easement. In all cases, the applicant is to be responsible for all costs incurred by City of Sydney in the creation of the easement.

Subject to the provisions of Section 47F of the LG Act, an estate in respect of this land category is expressly authorised by this PoM for the

Table 5. Express authorisation of leases, licences, short-term uses and other estates – Park Category

The Local Government Act 1993 requires that any lease, licence, short-term use or other estate over community land must be expressly authorised by a Plan of Management. Table 5 outlines purposes for which tenure may be granted on community land categorised as Park. Licences and approvals for short-term casual use or occupation for a range of uses may also be granted for the CBD Civic Spaces in accordance with Clause 116 of the Local Government (General) Regulation 2005.

Any lease, licence or short-term proposal will be individually assessed and considered, including the community benefit, compatibility with this Plan of Management and the capacity of the area to support the activity. The below is not an exhaustive list and other non-listed purposes may still be permitted subject to merit.

The park and its later monuments outline the development of Sydney since its colonial foundation. Macquarie Place was the first and main town square of colonial Sydney and is a surviving remnant of the first town centre of Sydney beside First Government House (now demolished) and on the original foreshores of Sydney Cove before the shoreline was extended. The Obelisk, erected in Macquarie Place in 1818, is the geographic centre point of nineteenth century Sydney, the Colony, and the network of nineteenth century roads throughout NSW. It was erected in this location by Governor Macquarie to mark the place from where all public roads were to be measured and has continued to perform this function over most of the history of European settlement in Australia, for over 190 years. The park and monument were well recognised landmarks of colonial Sydney and appeared in many nineteenth century artist views, including paintings by Conrad Martens. Although the original importance of Macquarie Place as the main town square of Sydney, the geographic and symbolic centre of the Colony, the setting to First Government House and the landmark qualities of Obelisk are now less apparent than in Colonial times due to the level of surrounding changes, the park and its monuments remain one of the few tangible links to this first Colonial town centre and thereby part of the earliest history of European settlement in Australia. 		which has survived relatively unchanged over two centuries of European settlement and can therefore symbolise the first place of meeting between Aboriginal people of the Eora Country and British settlers at Sydney Cove in 1788. Macquarie Place represents the oldest planned town square in Australia. Together with Hyde Park, it is also the oldest urban park in Australia, and has been in continuous use as a public space for at least 195 years, possibly operating as a public place of gathering from as early as 1791. The Obelisk is the oldest milestone for measuring of roads in Australia and the second oldest known European monument in Australia. The inscriptions on the Obelisk provide evidence of the extent of the small colony in 1818 when the colony was first expanding into the interior of New South Wales. The Obelisk was also the 'symbolic peg' indicating the far extent of the British Empire in the early 1800's. Macquarie Place and the Obelisk are rare surviving evidence of the transition of the Colony from a rough penal settlement to a planned town during the early 1800's under the direction of Governor Macquarie. This transition is demonstrated by the function of the Obelisk in the expansion of the Colony, by the establishment of a formal centre to the Colony, by the first formal layout of public space, and by the quality and design of the park and monument. The Obelisk and Macquarie Place are fine examples of the layout and ornamentation of Sydney town and its public spaces in the Georgian style, and rare surviving remnants of Macquarie's Georgian town plan for Sydney, together with the Hyde Park Barracks, St James Church,

		and First Government House Stables (now the Conservatorium). The Obelisk was designed by one of the most celebrated architects of the Colonial period, Francis Greenway, and was built by stonemason, Edward Cureton, with convict labour. These qualities of the Obelisk and Macquarie Place symbolise Macquarie's vision for a permanent planned settlement, which provided the genesis for the development of the nation, and which far exceeded the views of the British Government of the Colony as simply a penal settlement. When the Obelisk was first erected in Macquarie Place, Commissioner Bigge, representing the British Government, found even this simple monument too grand for a penal colony. Governor Macquarie defended the expense and design of the monument with indignation as a "little unadorned Obelisk...rendered at a trifling expense, somewhat ornamental to the Town" which in his view did not "merit any censure". It was this difference of opinion that contributed to the resignation of a disillusioned Governor Macquarie and meant that many of his plans and Greenway's designs for an elegant Georgian township were not realised. The "Sirius" cannon and anchor mounted in Macquarie Place are rare relics of the first defences of the Colony by the man-of-war flagship of the First Fleet that arrived in Sydney Cove in 1788. Both the cannon and anchor have been mounted in Macquarie Place for over a century after the canon and anchor were salvaged from the wreck of the vessel in 1791 and 1905 respectively and mounted at Macquarie Place in the 1880's and 1907. Square formed in the early 19th century as the formal space between the two Greenway buildings; Hyde Park Barracks and St James Church. The Statue of Queen Victoria was installed on main axis in 1888. In 1908, the Queen Victoria Statue was vested in Council and moved 26 yards from its original position to the centre of Queens Square. In 1911, the Council negotiated with St James Church to acquire sufficient property at the corner of the church to provide a better sweep to the roadway from the direction of the Comrie Fountain towards Phillips Street where a dangerous turn has to be made by the traffic at Queens Square. King Street trams terminated at Queens Square in 1950 and a tramway balloon loop encircled the statue.
