

Residential Parking Permit Guide and Application

About this form

You may use this form to apply for Residential Permits.

Permits are valid only in your numbered parking area and not all streets have resident exemptions.

The City of Sydney also has an easy, online application process for your parking permits. Applications can be made at any time and once approved, payment can be made securely online.

Register at online.cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/ParkingPermit

If mailing your application, please supply copies of documents and not the originals.

Part A: How permits work

1. There are 16 parking areas in the City of Sydney. Permits are issued for a specific area and are valid only within that area. The area number will be listed on your permit.
2. If the area number on your permit matches the area number on the sign (see example sign to the right) your vehicle is exempt from restrictions in that location.
3. A Parking Permit does not exempt your vehicle from general road signs such as "No Parking" or "Loading Zone"
4. Not all streets in your parking area will have special arrangements for residents.
5. It is the responsibility of the driver to carefully read any signs before parking their vehicle.

Part B: Which parking area and zone are you in?

To find out which area you are in, you can contact the City on 9265 9333 or check on the City's website at cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au/parking-permits.

Please note: Permits can be issued only for the area corresponding to your permanent residential address. Some streets and areas of the City do not have resident parking schemes. Where the number of residents exceeds the number of parking spaces, the area is classified as Zone A. All other areas are classified as Zone B.

Part C: Eligibility - General

You may be eligible for a Resident Parking Permit if:

1. You are a resident of the City, and not a guest of a hotel, hostel or serviced apartment;
2. Your property has no on-site parking, and no space that could reasonably be converted to parking;
3. Your vehicle is registered in your name at your residential address or you have full private use of a company vehicle (your employer must confirm this in writing on company stationery and supply company registration papers in company name and address);
4. Your vehicle is not a trailer, caravan, truck, bus or tractor.

Part D: Eligibility - Parking on your property

Resident parking permits are intended to cater for residents with no off-street parking. If you have off-street parking, you are required to utilise it, regardless of the difficulty of parking in that space. For example:

- If you do not have any on-site parking spaces, up to two permits may be issued.
- If you have one on-site space and two cars, you may be eligible for one permit, provided registration papers show both vehicles are registered at your address.
- If you reside in a property within Zone A of the City's parking scheme and have one or more on-site spaces, you are not eligible for a residential permit.
- Even if the vehicle you own is too large to fit into the off-street parking space, you are still deemed to have off street parking and this may affect your eligibility for a permit.

Part E: Eligibility - Ineligible properties

Not all residential properties within the City's Parking Precincts are eligible for permits.

If you live in a building approved or converted to residential use after 8 May 1996 (or 1 May 2000 in the CBD) you will not be eligible. Residents of Ultimo and Pyrmont living in buildings approved after 2 November 1998 may be eligible for one permit at a higher fee. Call 02 9265 9333 to enquire about your properties eligibility.

Part F: Permit fees

- Fees: Current fees are shown in Part 5 of the application form. For more information on fees, contact the City of Sydney on 9265 9333 or go to cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au
- Concession: If you are an eligible pensioner you are entitled to concession rates for most Parking Permits. To be eligible, you must hold a current Pensioner Concession Card issued by Centrelink or the Commonwealth Department of Veterans' Affairs. An armed services widow or a recipient of a war-related pension may also be eligible.

Part G: Your responsibilities

1. You are responsible for all permits issued to you.
2. If you sell your vehicle or move house, you must inform Council.
3. If your permit is lost, stolen or damaged, you may be asked to complete a statutory declaration, provide a Police Event Number or return the damaged permit. These requirements minimise the risk of fraud.
4. If this permit has been issued as a residential parking permit, it must be permanently affixed to the lower passenger side of the windscreen of the vehicle for which it has been issued.
5. Permits must not be sold, transferred or allocated to another person. Misuse or fraud may be referred to Police. In the event of fraud or misuse, the City may also cancel one or all permits issued to your household.
6. The City will endeavour to send out an expiry notice 4-6 weeks prior to your permit expiry date. We cannot guarantee every expiry notice will be received and it's your responsibility to renew your permit before it expires. Not receiving the notice is not an acceptable excuse for failing to renew your permit.

Part H: Privacy & Personal Information Protection Notice

- Purpose of collection: This information is being collected for the purpose of issuing parking permits and for road and traffic management in the Council area.
- Intended recipients: City of Sydney employees. Any approved contractors required to provide this service.
